

N-able Passportal Site

Branded Password Management as a Service (PMaaS)

N-able™ Passportal™ Site enables MSPs to resell the same Passportal password management solution they use to their end clients. Site provides the ability to easily and securely share passwords for your customers in a co-management IT environment and is an incremental service revenue for you.

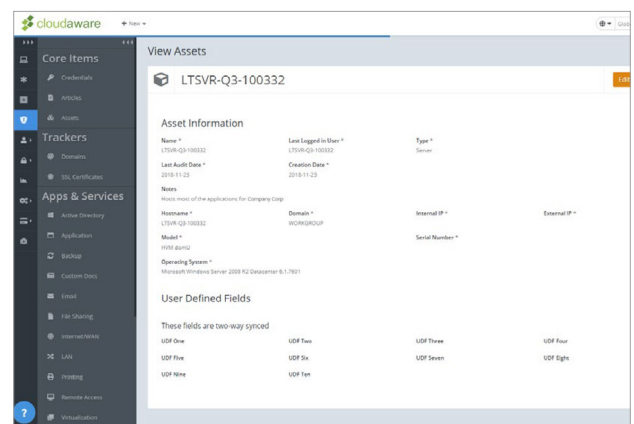

Offer the time savings and threat protection you enjoy with Passportal to your clients.

- Arm your customers military-grade encryption and credential handling with your own branded version of Passportal
- Provide end users a place to centralize both corporate and personal passwords
- Let customers enjoy the ease of one-click website login and automatically generated strong passwords

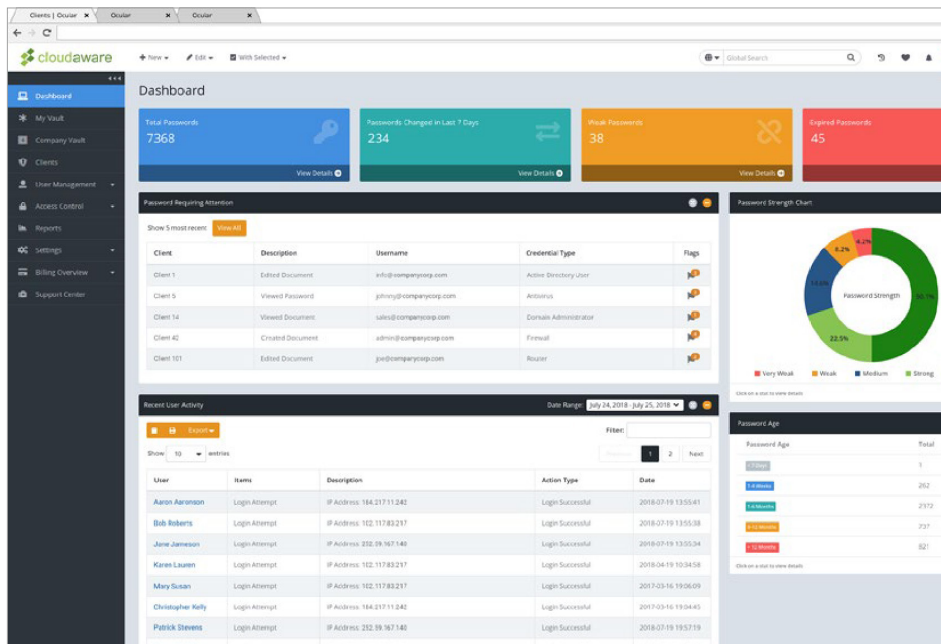

Improve overall security by encouraging your clients to use a password management solution that enforces best practices.

- Enable customers to auto-expire customer passwords and generate new strong passwords with ease
- Allow customers to manage their employee data access rights centrally
- Help make it easy for clients to terminate system access when employees leave the company

Extend your services product menu by offering Passportal password management as a service to your clients

- Differentiate your business—only Passportal customers can extend this service to their clients
- Add your brand and create your own custom service URL—a great way to reinforce the value you bring to your clients every time they use the service
- Pay by the service site instance, not the number of end users, so your pricing stays the same even if your customers add employees

Features at a glance

Password management convenience for your clients

- No more remembering dozens of passwords
- Faster access to websites and applications
- Centralized system for both corporate and personal passwords
- Folders to organize and categorize credentials
- Automatic generation of audits and reports to help with tracking and compliance

Improve the security you provide by promoting a password management system you trust to your clients

- Help ensure your customers frequently rotate passwords and use strong password strings to thwart hackers
- Receive notification of all passwords known by departing employees so clients can remove their access to company systems
- Give clients the tools to granularly grant employees access to employee systems and networks
- Help clients meet compliance measures with comprehensive auditing and reporting capabilities

Create a lucrative new password management-as-a-service revenue stream for your business

- Simple to sell—after all, it's the same service you trust to protect your business
- Adding your brand is easy, and since clients will use the service daily, your value as a vendor will be constantly reinforced
